Superba District Has Locals Personals Fine Flax

Field Standing 16 inches High was in Bloom on June 19th.

A fine sample of flax was brought in to this office last Friday from the Superba District.
The sample which contained about thirty stalks the longest of which was sixteen inches and the shortest thirteen and a half inches was in bloom. The wheat crop in this district is also looking very fine, and the farmers are looking forward to an exceptionally good year.

Car Broke Down

Party Returning from Loverna
Slept in Barn Overnight

On Monday night last while returning from Loverna, Mr.
Steffensen's car broke down near the McDonald farm about two miles west of Sibbald, and the party which included Messrs.
P. Steffensen, B. H. Dial, Mr. J. E.
McDonald, F. Freer and G. Desno was compelled to spend the night in a barn. Being unable to sleep McDonald decided to walk into Alask and return with his car. When about two miles east of Sibbald he met Mr. Peterson and party returning from Loverna, who picked him up and returned to the barn
where they aroused the sleepers.
After some deliberation it was decided that Mr. Dial and Mr.
McDonald should be left behind and Mr. Peterson started off for Oyen accompanied by Messrs.
Steffensen, Desno, Freer and King. Misfortune seemed to dog the party however, and the car had barely covered a mile when one of the tires was punctured. When Mr. Peterson was preparing to mend it, he found that he had no jack, so two of the party returned to the other car to get one.

The party eventually arrived
in Oyen about six-thirty a.m.
After breakfast Mr. Higgins drove back with a party to the scene of the breakdown where they picked up Messrs. Dial and McDonald and ran on into Al-
ask to get a new part for Mr.
Steffensen's car.

Amendment to Domin- ion Land Act is Pas- sed in the House

Homesteaders Will Now be Able to Obtain Patent of Pre-emption
in Three Years.

The amendment to the Dominion Land Act, which will make it possible for homesteaders to obtain a patent for their pre-emption in three years time is now law.

The main point of the amendment provide this upon earning homestead patent, the pre-emption patent may also be obtained at once, upon payment for the land in full and showing that certain duties have been performed. Holders of pre-emptions are relieved of interest until three years have elapsed from the date of pre-emption entry.

No interest is chargeable now upon any instalment in connection with either a pre-emption or a purchased homestead until after such instalment falls due.

The Oyen Citizen's band rendered some selections on Sunday afternoon in a very creditable manner, and were out again last night. After an indoor practice they marched down Main Street, along Second Ave. and back again.
Their playing is improving with each practice and by the 10th of July should give a very good account of themselves.

The McArthur block is being renovated outside. This building has been in a very dilapidated condition for months and the improvement will make a marked difference to the appearance of Main Street.

After the land practice last night a meeting was held when officers were appointed for the following year:—Secretary-Treasurer, W. C. Hoskins. Librarian, J. C. Green. Several applications were received for membership.

The elevator crew which have recently completed the elevator

TO BE TREATED WITH CONTEMPT.

In every walk of life men are to be found who are not very particular as to the means used to gain what they are after. They will get what they want by deliberate falsehood, by subtle flattery, or by misleading statements and will be particularly pleased with themselves for their dishonesty, saving their conscience by saying that a person who is so "easy" deserves to be done. They have as an axiom "Do others or they will do you" and think it smart. Some are even proud of the man who can "do" them by a crooked deal, and blame themselves for being so easy but the majority of them will avail an opportunity to get even and will spend many sleepless nights concocting some scheme to accomplish this. They are a contemptible breed.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT AGAIN.

Not satisfied with having upset the political equilibrium of his native country and with discovering a river in South America which upsets the theory that water will not run up hill of its own accord, Col. Theodore Roosevelt is over in England trying to persuade the government and Sir Edward Carson that he has a solution for the Home Rule trouble. Just what his panacea for all the ills of Ireland is has not been made public, but it is just possible that the Colonel will suggest that Ireland become absolutely independent as a nation and have Theodore I. for its king.—Medicine Hat News.

The craze for "snapping" unsuspecting people is not confined to Oyen. Last Sunday afternoon Lord Morsey was caught by a camera fiend while having forty winks on the Terrace at Quebec.

Mr. J. A. Jones, who has been indisposed the last few days, was slightly relieved last night when the abscess on his jaw burst. The relief came at the same time as the land commenced to practice.

The Oyen contingent who went to Loversa last Monday and lost their voices "roaring" for their hall team say "Never again." We have heard this remark before, however.

DIET AND BRAIN GROWTH.

Idiotism Benefited by Sheep's Thyroid Gland—Optimal Experiments

The problem whether a diet can have much influence upon brain building has exercised many philosophers and scientists during the last few years. A striking theory is advanced upon the question by Sir James Crickton-Brown in Cancer's Magazine.

"It is now a matter of common knowledge," he writes, "that a transmutation has been wrought in cretinous idiots and the victims of myxoedema—a grain disease—by preparations of the thyroid gland of the sheep.

"Dwarfish, feeble minded, timid, hideous, belated—more human creatures—have been made to add a cubit to their stature, to display intelligence and assume comely features by the supply to them of the material of which they had been deprived by defect in their own thyroid glands.

"Some recent scientific observations have thrown light on the physiological effects of oatmeal. It has been shown that in rats fed for eight weeks on oatmeal and water the thyroid gland was double the size of the same gland in rats that had been fed for the same time on bread and milk.

"Now, the secretion of this gland is intimately connected with nutritive processes throughout the organism, atrophy or destruction of the gland had serious effects on the production of creatinase or myosinase. It seems probable, therefore, that the bulk and leanness of the subjects are have been in some measure due to the stimulation of their thyroid gland by porridge in childhood.

"Oatmeal is apparently through its action on the thyroid as well as directly conducive to the building up of the brain."

AGING WINES WITH OZONE.

Dorn Process Shortens Period From Years to a Few Months.

The quality of wine is greatly improved by natural aging in wood or glass, but this method keeps a large amount of capital unemployed and involves a loss of 4 or 5 per cent by evaporation, says the Scientific American. The same improvement in the wine can be accomplished more rapidly by the action of ozone. Experiments proved that exposure to oxygen makes wine lose its acid and hastens the deposition of impurities in the form of lees. It is asserted, furthermore, that wine does not improve by age either in wood or in glass unless it has already absorbed a certain quantity of oxygen from the air, and nature has proved that wine deprived of oxygen is not altered by ageing.

Artificial aging has often been tried, but it has been found impossible to obtain the desired result by the introduction of either pure oxygen or pure ozone. The process patented by Alfred Dorn a few years ago appears to be more successful. It consists in the introduction of oxygen and its transformation into ozone in the interior of the mass of wine. A tubular electrode connected with an oxygen tank and an induction coil is inserted into the tank, and a portion of the oxygen thus introduced is converted into ozone by the electric current. The operation is continued for a period varying from twenty to thirty minutes, according to the quality and quantity of the wine. For the distilled spirits it may be necessary to continue the treatment six hours. This rapid treatment must be followed by natural aging for a short time, but new Bordeaux wine applied by this method in from forty to sixty days the quality of wine kept for many years in bottles.

FLOORS

Take up your old floor and linoleum and paint the floor with STEPHENS' Floor Paint.

A really good Floor Paint—STEPHENS'—is a wonderful aid to modern ideas of sanitation. With painted floors, there is no place for dirt and germs to collect, unseen and unreachable for months, as with a floor covering. It is cheaper to apply, and lasts a long time, and, unlike an oilcloth, for instance, can always be matched and renewed.

Stephens' Floor Paint

makes a smooth, hard, pleasing surface of any floor. It sinks into the wood and can be kept clean and sanitary with very little work, immeasurably lessening the housewife's labours. It dries quickly and is easily applied by anyone. In the kitchen, parlour, porch, for veranda floors and sleeping balconies—you need a good Floor Paint. Next time, for your own advantage, don't just say "Some Paint," but specify STEPHENS'.

Ask for Colour Card and Booklet. We'll gladly give full particulars for finishing floors in every way.

Messrs. L. Lesley, J. Arnold and P. Sheldrick arrived here last week from Olds, Alberta. Messrs. Lesley and Sheldrick have already located homesteads here while Mr. Arnold will also secure a homestead if possible. These gentlemen from the west are coming in good shape to start farming, and are highly pleased with the looks and prospects of this locality.

Mr. Thos. Ewing, who has been away all the winter, returned to his homestead last week.

Notwithstanding the season of the year Mr. Alex. Brown is doing a lot of good work with his chapping mill.

P. Foster and H. F. McDonald are now putting down well for Mr. Lloyd Lesley on 25-2-2.

We are pleased to see that Bert Eaton, who has been seriously ill with typhoid, is now going about his business and is almost himself again.

We regret to report the serious illness of Mrs. Berchard of this neighbourhood. Mrs. Berchard is suffering from rheumatism, and efforts are being made to have her sent to a hospital.

The contract for the University School was given to Stanley Campbell, a contractor of some note who erected some good buildings in Alsask last season.

Wrestling Match is Definitely Arranged for Sports Day

Corners of Excel Will Meet Clauson of Govan, Sask.

The management committee are pleased to announce that they have definitely arranged a match between Connors of Excel, Alta., and Clauson of Govan, Sask.

Connors is well known in this district and claims the championship of the province at his weight. In February last he met Roy McKelley at Castor and threw him in six minutes. Three years ago he met Chris. Peterson, who was at that time champion heavy weight of Canada and won the forfeit offered for standing up to him for fifteen minutes. Connors will wrestle here on July 10th. at 175 lbs.

Claus Clauson, of Govan, Sask., who will meet Connors here on July 10th.

Claus Clauson, who wrestles at 205 lbs., comes from Govan, Sask. with a very good reputation. He holds the title of champion of Last Mountain Valley, Sask., and has met several notable wrestlers. The match will be held in the Oyen Billiard Hall and is stirring up the keenest interest. A plan will be ready on the first of July and will be on view at the office of The Oyen News where seats may be obtained. Every seat reserved. One dollar each.

TOURNAMENT

Dalton in Great Form. Shut out Opponents in Seventeen Consecutive Innings.

Loverna held its annual Sports Day on Monday last when a good crowd turned out to witness the various events. A large and representative contingent left Oyen in the morning to help to cheer the ball team to victory, and their vocal efforts combined with the snappy play of the whole team proved most successful.

The weather was fine and warm in the morning, but turned cool in the afternoon, when a heavy shower of rain fell which compelled the spectators to seek shelter. The rain soon blew over, however and play was resumed.

Eight tennis competed for the hundred dollars in gold which was offered as first prize in the Baseball Tournament and a keen competition was witnessed by an enthusiastic gathering of fans.

The results:—1st Round.

Marrango	0 0 2 0 1 0
Willemina	0 1 0 0 0 1
Sounding Creek	0 1 0 2 0 3
Hillwood	2 0 0 0 0 2

OYEN	0 0 2 0 0 2

Final.
OYEN 0 2 0 0 0 0 X 10

By their play the Oyen team earned their victory. In the first game against Smiley they were three runs in arrears from the start, but Dalton settled down and pitched great ball shutting his opponents out in each of the subsequent innings. A splendid batting rally in the second inning was responsible for the four runs for Oyen who won the game by a score of four to three.

In the second game, played against Marrango, Dalton led his opponents runless in each inning. Only once did they look at all dangerous when they had a man on third and second with only one gone, but Dalton received brilliant support from both out and infield and Marrango had to retire without a run.

In the final game against Sounding Creek good ball was witnessed for the first five innings but after the fifth the whole Creek team seemed to break up and Oyen scored six and nine runs in the sixth and seventh innings respectively. With the score standing 19 to 0, Sounding Creek gave up after the eighth.

The play of the whole team was brilliant. The chief honours go to Dalton, who, with the exception of the first inning in the first game, pitched air-tight ball and held his opponents runless for seventeen consecutive innings.

Quinn, as catcher, played a great game as usual, and kept the fans amused all the time with his humorous remarks.

The infield were all exceptionally good and for fielding it would be hard to choose one for the honours. For all-round play however Freer distinguished himself and made some timely hits. The outfield were in great form too and each man was responsible for commendable plays at times. In the second and last game Dunning was substituted for Marshall and played a star game.
